Drop off your unwanted and expired prescription and over-the-counter medications.

You can prevent accidental poisoning and drug abuse, and protect our water sources at the same time.

Law enforcement officers will dispose of the medications.

It's your environment—
Please don't flush!

- Many drugs flushed down the toilet cannot be removed by sewer treatment plants or septic systems.
- These substances then get into our streams, rivers, lakes, groundwater and soil, and may cause harm to our environment.

Drug abuse is very common.

- Abuse of prescription drugs, particularly painkillers, has increased among teenagers and young adults.
- Many people who abuse painkillers get the drugs for free from friends or relatives, often without them knowing!
- Children and pets can find medicine in your home or in your trash.
- Drugs may be taken by accident, on purpose, or illegally sold.
